

OWN KARMA

ENTER YOUR KARMA

Immersive Landing Page — Creative Direction & Developer Brief

CREATIVE OBJECTIVE

The landing page should not feel like a conventional fashion e-commerce homepage. It should feel like entering the OWN KARMA universe: mysterious at first, philosophical at its core, exploratory in the middle, and product-focused only after the visitor understands the meaning behind the brand.

EXPERIENCE RHYTHM

SILENCE → QUESTION → PORTAL → PHILOSOPHY → EXPLORATION → DESIGN →
PRODUCT → QUESTION

VISUAL SYSTEM

Use approximately 60% deep black, 30% warm white/ivory, and 10% muted antique gold across the overall experience. Gold should signal importance—not decoration. Reserve it for transformation, discovery, meaningful words, key symbols and primary calls to action.

MOTION PRINCIPLE

Use stillness → movement → stillness. Motion must have narrative purpose. The experience should remain smooth, premium, accessible and performant across desktop and mobile.

01 — THE VOID

Create the feeling of entering darkness before entering a brand.

Start with a completely black viewport. No conventional navigation or products. A single muted-gold particle appears at the centre. Optional ambient sound remains user-controlled. Cursor movement gently influences nearby particles on desktop; mobile receives a simplified ambient effect.

EVERY ACTION LEAVES A TRACE.

Fade to black.

EVERY CHOICE CREATES A PATH.

Then reveal OWN KARMA, followed by NOT BOUND. UNBOUND. and a minimal outlined ENTER button.

The ENTER button is the first golden object the visitor is invited to touch. The power comes from darkness, pacing and anticipation.

02 — THE PORTAL

Turn the brand name into an entrance.

On ENTER, visually isolate the letter O from OWN KARMA. Move the camera toward it until the O becomes a circular portal. Travel through dark space with subtle stars, dust, golden particles, faint geometry and abstract architectural depth.

YOU ARE NOT ENTERING A BRAND.

YOU ARE ENTERING AN IDEA.

Avoid a bright sci-fi aesthetic. Keep it ancient-futuristic, elegant and mysterious. Include reduced-motion and lightweight mobile alternatives.

03 — WHAT IS OWN KARMA?

Explain the philosophy without losing mystery.

Enter a highly editorial black-and-ivory environment. As the visitor scrolls, reveal monumental typography: OWN → YOUR → KARMA, resolving into OWN YOUR KARMA.

OWN KARMA is a philosophy expressed through design.

Every piece begins with an idea.

Every symbol carries meaning.

Every design tells a story.

Use gold only on selected conceptual words. Typography should dominate.

04 — THE UNBOUND

Make the core philosophy physically transform.

Begin with WE ARE NOT BOUND. On scroll, the letters in BOUND fracture or dissolve into restrained particles, travel through negative space and reconstruct as UNBOUND.

Not bound by culture.

Not bound by mythology.

Not bound by geography.

Not bound by time.

Inspired by everything. Defined by nothing.

This should be a signature interaction, so avoid overusing particle effects elsewhere.

05 — THE DESIGN UNIVERSE

Let visitors explore the sources of creative thought.

Create an interactive spatial constellation rather than a standard grid: MYTHOLOGY · COSMOS · SACRED GEOMETRY · GOTHIC · ANCIENT CIVILIZATIONS · PHILOSOPHY · TIME · NATURE.

COSMOS reveals a galaxy field. GOTHIC reveals architectural silhouettes. TIME activates an abstract temporal instrument. SACRED GEOMETRY constructs forms line by line. References should be original, artistic and culturally respectful rather than literal copies of religious iconography.

Desktop: hover/focus. Mobile: tap-to-explore. Provide an accessible list alternative.

06 — THE FOUR PILLARS

Turn the design manifesto into architecture.

Present four monumental vertical doors: PILLAR I · PILLAR II · PILLAR III · PILLAR IV. Each carries a distinct symbol. Hovering creates a subtle gold edge-light; clicking opens the door into a visual world containing the pillar name, principle, short manifesto and examples.

Keep the pillar names and copy CMS-editable until the framework is finalized. The metaphor: visitors open the foundations upon which OWN KARMA is built.

07 — FROM PHILOSOPHY TO GARMENT

Visualize the OWN KARMA creation methodology.

Create one continuous transformation: 01 THOUGHT → 02 PHILOSOPHY → 03 SYMBOL → 04 DESIGN → 05 GARMENT.

An abstract thought condenses into an idea, becomes a geometric symbol, develops into artwork, transfers onto textile and resolves into a finished garment.

WE DON'T DECORATE CLOTHING.

WE TRANSFORM IDEAS INTO SOMETHING YOU CAN WEAR.

Use a scroll-controlled transformation or five connected cinematic stages, while preserving readable static states.

08 — THE FIRST PRODUCT REVEAL

Make the product feel like the result of the journey.

Reveal one hero garment in a full-screen dark studio. Avoid immediately showing a catalogue. Where technically feasible, provide a 360° view.

Allow focused exploration of FABRIC · EMBROIDERY · STITCHING · ARTWORK · LABELS. Use restrained hotspots or side navigation. Selecting artwork opens DISCOVER THE MEANING, revealing the philosophy behind the design.

Material specifications explain quality; the design story explains purpose.

09 — THE KARMA ARCHIVE

Build a permanent cultural memory for every creation.

Introduce THE ARCHIVE. Give every design a permanent identity, for example OK / 001 — THE INFINITE PATH.

Each entry contains THE IDEA · THE SYMBOL · THE STORY · THE ARTWORK · THE GARMENT.

Treat the archive like a museum catalogue or evolving digital library, not a normal product listing. Sold-out pieces can remain as part of the brand's creative history. Build the architecture for CMS growth.

10 — THE FINAL QUESTION

End where the experience began: in darkness.

Return to near-total black. Remove visual noise.

WHAT WILL YOU LEAVE BEHIND?

YOUR ACTIONS.

YOUR CHOICES.

YOUR STORY.

YOUR KARMA.

Reveal the finalized OWN KARMA logo and NOT BOUND. UNBOUND.

Primary CTA: ENTER THE COLLECTION

Secondary CTA: EXPLORE THE UNIVERSE

The ending should feel reflective rather than aggressively commercial.

DEVELOPMENT PRIORITIES

1. Prioritize speed and progressive enhancement: cinematic desktop effects with simplified mobile equivalents.
2. Respect reduced-motion preferences and accessibility.
3. Keep essential text readable and indexable for SEO; do not place core copy only inside video or canvas.
4. Lazy-load heavy 3D, video and image assets.
5. Maintain a clear path to shopping. Immersion should enhance commerce, not block it.
6. Build the Four Pillars, Design Universe, Product Meaning and Archive as editable modules.
7. Prototype THE VOID → THE PORTAL first and use it as the quality benchmark for the remaining experience.
8. Treat this brief as creative direction, not a requirement to animate every idea literally. Balance storytelling, usability, performance and technical feasibility.

FINAL CREATIVE PRINCIPLE

The visitor should arrive expecting a fashion website and leave feeling that they discovered a world. OWN KARMA should not simply show products. It should reveal why those products exist.
